St. David Acolytes To Hear Rev. Blackburn

On Tuesday evening the 28th,
the members of the Acolyte Guild of St. David's Episcopal Church, will hear a talk given by the Rev.
Elliot H. Blackburn, Assistant Rector, at the Church of the Atonement in Westfield. The subject will be: "The Awards and Duties of Serving Before the

The Vicar of St. David's, Rev.

Robert Ratcliffe, Lay-Advisor to the Acolyte group, will conduct the hearing of the group reports

Rev. Blackburn is well known to this area being a native son and a graduate of Agawam High School. For his college training, this neighboring Cleric attended Drew University and from there he entered Berkley Divinity School, New Haven, where he completed his theological training in 1961. Of particular interest to citizens of Agawam is the fact that Rev. Blackburn was advanced to the Priesthood in St.
David's Church, by the Right Rev.
Robert M. Hatch, D.D., Bishop of the Dioceses of Western Masachusetts, on the Feast of St.

Women's Club

To Elect Officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Agawam Women's Club will be held Monday, April 27 in the Captain Charles Leonard House at 8 p.m. Mrs. A. Duane Stebbins will preside at the business meeting at which time annual reports of officers and committees will be heard. Mrs. Eugene H. Lund will install the new officers for the club year.

Mr. David E. Maxon of Amherst will present a lecture and demonstration on "Japanese Flower Arrangement." Mr. Maxon toured the Orient two years ago and has appeared before many women's groups in New England. He creates aesthetic floral compositions as he places blossoms, sprigs of straw and other greenery in formalized pattern. Mr. Maxon says that this pastime was popular with Japanese war lords in the 16th century. Mr. Maxon claims great satisfaction comes from using ingenuity in gathering as material fruit, vegetables, leaves, dried branches and grass and placing them in interesting composition. Mr. Maxon will be introduced by Mrs. Larry O. Holland, 2nd vice-president.

Mrs. Charles L. Kistner is in charge of hospitality.

"To this end, all members of our chapter have promised their full support and cooperation in making the drive a success. We hope all the townspeople will react generously when our UNICO salesmen approach them during the week of May 17. GOP APPEAL TO VOTERS

The Presidential Preference election being held on Tuesday April 28th, will be the first milestone of the 1964 campaign. The final one will be the Agawam Town election on Tuesday Nov. 17, 1964.

Every election involves making a decision, and so many voters are reluctant to oblige. Our April 28th election will involve choosing the delegates to the presidential nominating conventions, the state committee members for both major parties and the members for both Agawam town committees, Republican and Democratic.

It is eternally surprising that time and effort must be expended on a free people, urging them to vote.

Recent results locally would indicate that when the reservoirs of political strength are tapped the greatest flow heads for the Democratic Party ballots, yet in our latest town election, when issues were made clear, the flow was to the Republican candidate.

The Agawam Republican Town Committee likes to believe that once the voters of the town, bend their thoughts to the issue, then the larger flow of voters will be as they were recently.

We see the image of Massachusetts as not too favorable.

The town committee believes that too many of us are somewhat

Troop 79 Court of Honor

The parents of Troop 79 Scouts were treated to an unique Court of Honor held recently at St. David's Hall on Springfield Street. The evening started off with grace by Rev. Tyler, a potluck supper, followed by the Scouts lining up on both sides of the main aisle and giving a hand salute. The whole evening was turned over to the boys who put on a typical troop meeting night.

We see new businesses and industries locate in nearby Connecticut, then depend upon Massachusetts residents for support and operation. We see traffic strangled on our roads and highways and wonder where the tax money went.

The present election will not decide any of the above but can be the first stepping stone across a river of doubts.

The Second Class Den put on a very realistic first aid demonstration. The Flintstones, with David Picchi in charge, featured the skills of all the committeemen.

The Mawaga Patrol, with Richard Abbey leading, put on a signalling demonstration using lights, sound and flags.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

In New Hampshire the fourth Saturday of April is an important day...it's the opening of brook trout season! This year the date is April 25 and anglers, champing at the bit with eagerness, can expect to have nearly half-a-million catchable-size trout available to them opening day.

Stocking of streams will be underway as soon as water temperatures reach 45 degree temperature, and some 150,000 brook and rainbow trout yearlings are ready and waiting at the hatcheries for the go-ahead signal. In addition, ponds across the state were stocked last fall with over 2,000 brook stock and more than 326,000 fingerlings, which will have reached catchable size by opening day. The policy of stocking most ponds with fingerlings in the fall, and making no more stockings in these waters prior to the open season, was adopted by the Fish and Game Department in 1961 and has proved very successful. By spring these fish, together with hold-over trout from the previous season, have developed native-like qualities of color and action and provide real sport for the angler.

The first day of trout fishing in Mass., this year of '64 was the best to come along for a decade or so...weather wise. The catch of the hundreds of anglers on the streams in the Western part of the state was small indeed. The pond fishermen did very good with a Westfield resident netting a six pound brown out of Congomond, and another angler landed a five pounder. Many of the early fishermen at Congomond had their limit of 6 fish before noon. Not so at the Deerfield River, where this writer was fishing for just a few of the thousands that the Division stocked in the cold fast running water earlier in the week. We checked a good cross section of fishermen on the river Saturday, and found only a few with two or more trout in their creel. The fish were just not hitting like they usually do opening day. The water was high, dirty and very cold. The fish were found laying up close to the banks in the deep holes of the river, and acting very finicky about what they wanted to eat. The Westfield Branches produced about the same skimpy catches. We need some good warm weather to drop the streams down and warm up the water. Then the fishing will be excellent.

Proud Lassie

Mary Quill proudly holds up for the photographer a string of five beautiful brown trout she and Jerry Plouff (the angler with the pole) caught at the West Side Fish and Game Club Sunday morning after church.

If you see anglers carrying record players this year they won't be playing Beethoven to the bass or a Strauss waltz to the sturgeon. The only record they will carry will be one recently cut by Dick Kotis who has now put his favorite fishing tips on wax. Kotis, president, of the Fred Arbogast Company, is making his special fisherman's record available to everyone who obtains one of the company's new annual catalogs.

The record, which can be played on standard record players, carries messages that will be bad news to bass everywhere. The Kotis tips include the best ideas from years of bass fishing. "We have people asking every day," says Kotis, "for the most effective ways to fish such baits as the Hula Popper, Jitterbug and Wampum. This record has the answers."

The new catalog is filled with fishing tips as well as descriptions of tested Arbogast baits. If you want the catalog and the special Dick Kotis record send a dime to cover mailing costs to Fred Arbogast Company, 313 West North Street, Akron 3, Ohio.

The luck of the Irish is said to have helped many a woman catch her man...

Who Is Too Young?

The happy and proud youngsters in the picture above are holding the trout that their daddy landed a few minutes before. Robert, Allan and Shirley Mahoney enjoyed themselves to no end watching their daddy fishing and when he gave them the pole to try their luck, they were in seventh heaven. Over 60 club members and their youngsters participated in trout fishing Sunday at the West Side Fish & Game Club.

ROSS MEMORIAL CANDLEPIN CLASSIC

Lawrence, Mass. — The best of New England's candlepin bowling breed will be on hand at the 60-lane Lawrence Recreation Center on Sunday, April 26th, bidding for one of candlepin bowling's most coveted awards, the James Ross Memorial New England Candlepin Classic.

The championship, of which Sunday's represents the tenth edition, is a ten-string test across ten lanes. It will be contested in two shifts scheduled to get underway at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. sharp.

South Acton's Bob Kelly, whose 1349 carried off top money plus a beautiful wristwatch a year ago, is due back for another run at the winner's check of $500 guaranteed.

Although many followers of this candlepin classic are rating Bob Kelly as the bowler to beat this trip, others feel that the sternest competition is apt to come from Agawa's Charlie Jutras. Last year Jutras finished fourth, with 1239.

As was the case in the 1963 renewal of the tournament, the entry fee of $15 includes bowling and expenses.

MELHA SHRINE CIRCUS OPENS AT COLISEUM MAY 7

The 10th Annual Melha Shrine Circus will open at the Eastern States Coliseum, West Springfield, on Thursday May 7th. One of the feature attractions of this outstanding circus will be "The Smahas".

Toni and Inga Smaha, Europe's premier exponents of dressage will present the High School Horses, "Fascination" and "Golden Sunset". Toni Smaha is one of the world's leading Horse Trainers and as chief trainer for the Bertram Mills Circus in London he handled 53 horses in the ring at one time.

Sometimes it will take three years to train a horse to master all that is required for a fine dressage act, the peak in Horse Training. Horses are as different in intelligence as are people, said Smaha, who has worked with horses since he toured Europe at the age of three with his circus-travelling father. There is only one way you can tell if a horse is smart enough to learn and that is to try him out. In fourteen days you know whether he is intelligent or not.

The routine of their present act consists of the higher degrees of dressage work and climaxes with a special jump. This is known as "The Capriole", and was originated from the Vienna High School Riding Academy. Very few horses can execute this jump.

The Smahas with their two golden palominos will be featured in all seven performances of this year's Circus. They will appear nightly Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in performance scheduled to start at 8:15 p.m. as well as the four matinees set for Friday at 4 p.m.

LIBRARY TRUSTEES ANSWER QUESTION

Mr. Donald Langevin, chairman of the Board of Library Trustees has stated many Agawam townspeople have been asking the Trustees when are we going to build a new centrally located library. Our answer, of course, is, as soon as possible. To bring you up to date on what have been happening which might help, there is now a law which has been passed by the Congress and signed by President Johnson pertinent to Federal Aid for library construction. The actual money to implement the law, has not been appropriated, but is expected by the fiscal year beginning July first.

A preliminary questionnaire has been received here to be filled out regarding your town's needs for the near future as to library buildings. This will be answered to the effect that we are planning to build as soon as funds are available. Federal funds are supposed to be forthcoming in the amount of 50%, but there may not be enough available for everyone.

Although we are at present considering locating near the high school, which is the geographical center of town, we would be interested in hearing from the townspeople on the subject.

After investigating a great many libraries, we feel that the new library should be approximately 75 feet by 100 feet in area. This should take care of the needs of the town for quite some time.
